London, June 29.—The tragedy that has befallen the House of Hapsburg, according to news reaching London, was the result of a carefully prepared Servian nationalist plot in revenge for the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, which defeated the dreams and aspirations of creating a greater Servia.

Washington, June 29.—To-morrow marks the close of the first full fiscal year under the Democratic administration. Figures made public to-day showed that up to and including last Saturday the government's receipts had been $694,505,007.23 as against showed that up to and including last $699,084,417.60 for the corresponding period of the last fiscal year.

RATE DECISION MAY BE DELAYED MANY WEEKS

Interstate Commerce Commission Has Not Yet Reached Conclusion as to Final Action.

SERIOUS SNAGS ENCOUNTERED

Have Presented Vast Amount of Evidence, Which Is Uncontradicted by Railroads Which Make Pleas for More Revenue.

Washington, June 29 -Indications o-day were that the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of Eastern railroads for 5 per cent advance in freight rates would not be made public this week, as had been expected generally. The decision may not be announced for at least two weeks and possibly not for a longer time than that, as it is known that some serious phases of the general questions involved remain to be that some serious phases of the gention and income tax assessments, which are delayed until the last moment. Receipts for corporations and income taxes aggregated $6,627,568.24 Saturday, making the total collections from those sources for the year up to that date $32,285,686.87. The Treasury Department estimate of the amount to be derived from those taxes is $75,000,000, and if the experience of last year is repeated, the final day for payment will bring in half the total assessment. Figures, including Saturday's receipts, show the amount of money collected from customs as $290,891,266.65 against $316,338,572.03 last year for the corresponding period. The internal revenue collections from ordinary sources so far this year aggregate $306,267,126.87 compared with $303,560. Section of the commission as yet actually has reached no final conclusions. One of the serious conditions which has been encountered is what has been termed "the lopsidedness" of the record of the case, as respects certain commodities. For nearly a month, testimony was taken by the commission as to the reasonableness of the rates on certain specified commodities, the evidence being given practically entirely.

certain specified commodities, the evicertain specified commodities, the evidence being given practically entirely by shippers. Most of the witnesses maintained either that existing rates were too high or that they were fairly reasonable. Every one protested against an advance on his particular commodity.

Counsel for the railroads submitted counsel for the railroads submitted very little testimony, in some instances none at all. The result is that the record as to these commodities is strongly indicative of the reasonableness of existing rates.

It is explained now by the railroads' counsel that they were relying for action favorable to them upon their general evidence that they needed additional revenues. Doubt has arisen, however, in the minds of the commission as to whether regardless of arms. however, in the minds of the commission as to whether, regardless of any conclusion on the railroads' evidence, it would be justified in making a horizontal advance in the face of uncontradicted testimony of the reasonableness of certain specific rates.

That is only one of the snags which the commission has struck in going over the evidence in this case. Differences of opinion naturally have arisen among the commissioners, and while none appears to be insurmountable, all of them require time to resolve

Ordinarily the commission takes a recess for the summer about July 1, but the situation of the pending cases is such that the taking of the recess will have to be postponed for some
